

COMMISSION SEES THE PRESIDENT

Roosevelt Gives the New Board of Arbitration Special Instructions This Morning.

GRAY IS LEADER

Regular Meetings Will Be Held Beginning on Monday and Continue Till Work is Finished.

(Special By Scripps-McLae.) Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.—Prompt and swift has been the calling together of the commission appointed by President Roosevelt to investigate the situation in the anthracite coal regions. The first meeting was held this morning at the President's room of the temporary White House at ten.

Call issued Tuesday. The President issued the call for the first meeting on Tuesday last and at ten this morning the entire board was present and listened to the President's remarks on the reason they were called together. The instructions were given in writing by the President after the members of the commission had paid their respects to him. It began by a notification of their appointment which was made at the request of the operators and miners' representatives for the purpose of inquiring into and passing upon all questions in the controversy. Commissioners instructed. The commissioners were then instructed to endeavor to establish relations between employers and employees on a just and permanent basis and as far as possible to do away with any recurrence of such difficulties that have existed during the past summer. The published statement of the operators accompanied the instructions.

Elect A Head. The commission then withdrew to the office of Labor Commissioner Wright, who is to act as secretary of the board, and after talking over the instructions proceeded to elect Judge Gray as president of the commission.

Lunch With President. At 12:30 the commission adjourned to take luncheon with President Roosevelt at the temporary White House. At this morning's meeting it was decided to make public the meetings through the medium of the press. Recorder Wright announced that the next meeting would be held here on Monday afternoon when all the witnesses would be requested to be present and the general plans of procedure would be laid out. May Want Mitchell. It is probable that President Mitchell will be asked to be present to present the miners' side of the situation. All witnesses must come freely as the commission has no power to compel testimony to be given. Whether Wright will be allowed a vote in the commission is a question to be decided by the President.

MINERS STILL NEED MONEY FOR STRIKERS

Official Notice Is Given That the Assessment Will Be Continued to Nov. 1.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 24.—The United Mine Workers' Journal, the official organ of the organization, publishes the following from President Mitchell:

"Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Oct. 21.—United Mine Workers' Journal, No. 1122 Stevenson Building, Indianapolis, Ind.—OFFICIAL NOTICE. The anthracite coal strike has been settled. The questions at issue between the operators and miners will be submitted for adjustment to a commission selected by President Roosevelt. Many of the mines cannot be operated to their full capacity immediately, and it will be some time before all the men can be placed at work. These men will have to be cared for until their places are ready for them. That will require a large amount of money. The members of the United Mine Workers are therefore notified that the assessment levied by the special convention will be continued until official notice has been issued to discontinue the same, which will likely be on or about the 1st of November.

DEFENDER OF AMERICAN COW

That Title Was Conferred Upon Senator Spooner at Dairy Convention in Milwaukee.

PLEASES FARMERS

Ex-Governor Hoard Urges the Dairy and Farm Men to Work for Spooner's Reelection.

(Special To The Gazette.) Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 24.—John C. Spooner, United States senator from Wisconsin, was the guest of honor of the National Dairy union at the buttermakers' convention yesterday. The senator was greeted with applause, spoke a few words to the assembled countrymen, and was given three hearty cheers.

Senator Spooner was the knight of the dairy people in the fight against the oleomargarine people, and for that reason he is highly thought of by the buttermakers.

Warmly Welcomed. President W. D. Hoard of the union invited the senator to come and receive the greetings of the union, and this morning he was escorted to the hall by Mr. Hoard and Secretary Charles Y. Knight. He was first escorted through the hall and shown the exhibits that he might gather an idea of the immensity of the butter interests through the machinery required in the business, and then was taken to the platform.

Cheers for the Senator. President Hoard called the meeting to order and after telling of the trouble that the senator had had with his throat that made it impossible for him to talk, introduced the speaker. As the senator came forward he was greeted with hearty applause. He spoke briefly saying that he would not be called upon to speak but that he would break the governor's promise. He said that the work done by Messrs. Hoard and Knight with congress had won the fight for the dairy people in the oleo matter, and that it was not the work of himself or his colleagues in the senate, but the virtues of the cause that won out.

Is Styled "The Cow" Champion. When the senator finished his entire address, not taking over two minutes, President Hoard proposed three cheers for the champion of the cow, and they were given with a will. The senator was then escorted through that part of the exhibit that he had not seen.

Hoard's Address. President Hoard made a brief address in which he said that the oleo interests are fighting all the senators and representatives that have stood for the pure butter bill, and that they would continue to fight them. In the course of his address he said:

Farmers To Aid. "Senator Spooner is being fought in this state and other senators are being fought in their states by the oleo interests, which wishes to supercede the senators they could not control with those they could, and I urge our members to support him in this state."

JUSTICE PREVENTS STUDENT COLLISION

Mr. Harlan of the Federal Supreme Bench Shows That He Is Still Agile.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Justice Harlan of the United States Supreme court, who is a member of the faculty of Columbia university law school in this city prevented a class fight between freshmen and sophomores. Justice Harlan is a giant in stature and, although 69 years of age, he is vigorous and active, golf being one of his daily exercises. The youngsters were no match for him when he entered the arena.

The freshmen class had announced that it would hold its first meeting in jurisprudence hall. After the regular lecture of the evening the freshmen undertook to open their meeting, when the sophomores made a charge against the door of the hall. At this point Justice Harlan appeared and ordered the combat to cease.

The sophomores paused for a moment and then began a second assault. The jurist immediately took a personal hand in the fray. He reached over the heads of the assaulting party and, seizing the leader by the collar, dragged him from the pile. The jurist then told the second year men to disperse and they obeyed.

STATEMENT FOR OLD SOLDIERS

Mr. Dave Conger States Some Facts
as to Governor La Follette.

"Comrades: I understand there is story afloat wherein my name is used to the effect that Governor La Follette is quoted as saying that he had no use for the old soldiers—this statement was made to me during the last campaign—and as one of his supporters I looked up his record in congress, and found that had he been a paid attorney he could not have done more for the soldiers, their widows and orphans. Now regarding his record as governor, please note the following facts, secured from the state records by Past Commander A. G. Weissert, and given in his address at the Soldiers' Home in Milwaukee on Oct. 2nd last, and govern your actions accordingly.

Your Comrade,
"DAVE CONGER."

Mr. Weissert said in part:
"When Gov. La Follette entered upon his term of office there were in the employ of the state exactly thirty-nine old soldiers, and the aggregate amount of their salaries summed up to a total of $42,760 annually. Now, I find at the present time that there are forty-four old soldiers employed and the aggregate amount of their salaries is over $46,000 annually, and in this latter list I have not been able to include four employees who have been appointed by him but whose salaries I have been unable to ascertain correctly."

"This then shows the work of Gov. La Follette and we have here an increase of nearly $4,000 in salaries and of eight employees, and that in the face of the abolition of eight offices by the last legislature. The last legislature saw fit to abolish the offices of storekeeper and foreman of the labor force, and to cut down the force of janitors by six, but in spite of this to contend with we find that there are over eight more veterans employed by the state at the present time than there was two years ago, and that their increase of salaries is nearly $4,000."

"I desire to make no comparisons of the work of the present governor with that of any of the predecessors. I am here simply to defend him of the false stories that are circulated. I leave you to draw your own conclusions. But I desire to say that I know the governor to be a loyal friend of the Army of the Republic and another friend, just as warm and true, is J. C. Spooner."

Coach Yost invited the students to witness an open practice at Ann Arbor yesterday, and over one thousand accepted the invitation. There was a tremendous outburst of enthusiasm.

Thirste Noche-Sad Night
By Edwin Francis Moran.
"Night is the time for care,
Brooding over toils mispent."

I.

Historic ancient Mexico
Was held by Aztec race,
The crafty Spaniard there did so
The red man to displace.

II.

And King Montezuma to subdue
And overthrow his state,
And his red warriors tried and true
Forever subjugate.

III.

"Twas on an eve styled Thirste Noche
The Spaniard stole away,
From cruel Indian treachery
That could not know fair play.

IV.

But when they tried to leave the city
In dangerously close quarters,
The natives fell on them sans pity
Yea, savagely, like tartars.

V.

They fell in fight the live long day,
O'er matched, they had to go,
From the old Teocalls, gray
With time and grim with woe.

VI.

They reached the bridge with ranks
So spare
To find it broken down,
The wily Aztecs were aware
They hoped to flee the town.

VII.

There in the dead of night they fell
Into dark drowning hell's Though dug for traffic, slouches as well
That "sad night" old history tells.

VIII.

A few escaped, by death-clouds hid,
To rally once again,
And destroy Teocalls' pyramid
Built o'er human victims slain.

IX.

To Mexico's most cruel Gods
Revenge that sad night,
When, facing death, they won o'er odds
In a most bitter fight.

X.

And thence it is thro' story misty
This night will ever be,
Called in soft accents "Noche Triste"
May we ne'er one like it see.

LAST PRODUCTION OF AMATEUR SHOW

Large Audience Enjoys Final Performance of the Trinity Church

Vaudeville Entertainment.

Another large audience witnessed the final performance of the vaudeville and spectacular entertainment, given under the auspices of Trinity church at the Myers Grand last evening.

The program was fully up to the standard of the preceding evening and many encores were demanded and given.

While the audience found pleasure in all of the pretty dances, the favorite numbers, as on the preceding evening, were the cowboy reel, the Dutch wooden shoe reel, the dance of Ancient Greece, the serpentine dance by Miss Helen Nash, the fisher's hornpipe by Miss Daisy MacLean and the jig dance by Mame and Will Curless.

In the group dances, those who took part would have had better opportunity to win distinctive honors if there had been more difference in the character of the dances. The majority of them were very similar in style, practically the same steps being employed.

In the main, however, the entertainment was a creditable one and the young amateurs who contributed to its success received much praise for their excellent work. While the entertainment was a financial success, it was not as profitable as the management had hoped it would prove to be.

BULL DOG BEAT THE SHEPHERD

Collie Tried to Pick on an Inoffensive Canine, and Changed His Mind.

There is one dog in this city which will think several times before it again attempts to make trouble with another canine. A shepherd dog wandered down River street this morning looking for trouble, and meeting a meek looking bull dog squatting in front of a saloon, decided that he had found it. He had.

Caught by Neck

Playfully leaping at the bull, the shepherd snapped at his neck, and then barked a defiant challenge. The bull needed no further invitation.

With one leap he fastened the sharp fangs in the collie's neck, and then stood there calm and immovable, despite all of the struggles of the dog which had started the fight, it could do nothing.

Bull Dog Victorious

Soon it became evident to the crowd of onlookers who had gathered, that the little bull dog would kill the other unless some one intervened, and a couple of men attempted to pull the dogs apart. The bull still dug its teeth into the other's neck with proverbial tenacity, while its victim struggled convulsively.

Neither made a sound. After a hard pull the dogs were separated, and the vanquished trouble maker sought the refuge of a friendly farm wagon, while the victor trotted bravely off to receive the plaudits of its master.

A Good Hearted Man, or in other words, men with good sound hearts, are not very numerous. The increasing number of sudden deaths from heart disease daily chronicled by the press, is proof of the alarming prevalence of this dangerous complaint, and as no one can foretell just when a fatal collapse will occur, the danger of neglecting treatment is certainly a very risky matter. If you are short of breath, have pain in left side, smothering spells, palpitation, unable to lie on side, especially the left, you should begin taking

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

J. A. Kreamer, says: "My heart was so bad it was impossible for me to lie down, and I could neither sleep nor rest. My decline was rapid, and I realized I must get help soon. I was advised to try Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, which I did, and candidly believe it saved my life."

Submitted to Arbitration

The people of the United States are to be congratulated on the certainty of a speedy resumption of work in the coal mines and upon the recognition secured of the enlightened principle of arbitration. President Roosevelt has conducted his important part in the case with due conservatism, yet with characteristic vigor. He has shown a high order of executive ability in a crisis that came unexpectedly. He was deeply and justifiably concerned lest the long suspension of coal mining in one of the largest fields of the United States should not only derange general industry, but cause such widespread suffering that public disorder would be one of the results. His views upon that subject were not exaggerated. By taking hold of the situation prudently, yet firmly, in the spirit of the statesman, not the politician, he has brought the two sides together in consent to refer the differences to competent arbitration. Neither side can tell precisely what the decision will be, but the character of the arbitrators is so high, and their attainments so practical and comprehensive that their judgment will unquestionably be accepted by all concerned.

There is far more in this matter than the settlement of a single strike. The great and threatening deadlock in the coal industry touched several momentous public questions. Both operators and workmen were finely induced to take advanced ground as to arbitration. The difficulty in such cases is to find a common basis for both parties, and to allay the excited feeling to both sufficiently to make possible an appeal to calm reason. President Roosevelt, apart from all party and political representation, and whose well-being with an achievement of greater magnitude than perhaps appears at this moment. While treating the elements hostile to each other on the same level of justice and fairness, he kept in mind the claims of 50,000,000 people of whom he is chief representative, and whose wellbeing was sharply at stake to an unusual degree. The arbitration agreed on is a triumph for the president, the people, both sides in the dispute and also for our free form of government.

In an economic sense, better things can be expected hereafter in an industry involving a necessity of the people. The country will never consent to be subject to continual squeezes in coal or in any other article on which life depends. Monopolies have had a warning, too, though the strike did not reach a final stage of public interference. If it had run on to the last extremity either the nation or the step must have stepped in to give the people relief, and as long as one of the results of the strike, the settlement of which may be seen some day to have been a historical landmark. For the present moment, let the motto be, "Mine Coal," for winter is near and the needs of the people are urgent.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

OUR EXPORT TRADE

The growing importance of South Africa as a market for products of the United States is illustrated by some figures just received by the Treasury Bureau of Statistics. The Cape Colony, Natal, Delagoa Bay and Biera trade amounted last year to more than 150 million dollars, or nearly treble the total for a decade earlier. These figures are published by the British South African Export Gazette. They show that the imports of Cape Colony in 1901 were $104,220,000; those of Natal, $46,500,000; Delagoa Bay, $993,374, and Biera, $2,037,088; making a total of $153,750,462. This is a marked increase over the imports of the preceding year and is two and a half times as much as the total for 1892, a decade earlier, the figures being: for 1892, $61,653,000; 1895, $82,648,000; 1900, $115,336,000; and 1901, as already indicated, $153,750,462. Of this total importation into South Africa, $98,916,000 was from the United Kingdom, $23,037,000 from the British colonies and protectorates, $12,848,000 from the United States, $5,441,000 from Germany. Comparing 1901 with 1900 the total increase has been very large, the figures for 1900 being $115,536,000, against $163,750,462 for 1901. Of this increase of 38 million dollars, $27,000,000 was in the imports from the United Kingdom, $5,465,000 from British possessions and protectorates, $1,962,000 from Germany, and $1,601,000 from the United States, showing that Germany made a larger gain in its exports to South Africa during the year than did the United States.

The coal mines have opened for operation. The operators granted most of the demands of the miners but they still hold the whip hand and refuse to hire many of the men who have applied for work on the grounds that their places are filled. This is not strictly in the letter of the law but what do they care? The miners a hundred or more may suffer but the operators' wives want seal skin saques or trips to Europe and they must have the money.

Democracy makes serious blunders in claiming that wire sold cheaper abroad than in this country since the tariff on that article went into effect. Roelling, the wire man, says the figures used are under two different dates and can not apply the present period.

One of the humorous phrases of the coal strike was the stealing of four car loads of crushed stone by some Italian laborers near Waterloo, N. Y., thinking it was coal. The neighbors saw the joke but the Italians, never.

It is a question whether some of those amateurs who took part in the church Kirmess should make a success if they took up the stage to make their bread and butter by. But they were funny.

Mayor Rose is still talking. La Follette is still talking. Quarles is still talking and none of them have become hoarse. Senator Spooner is also talking and has lost his voice but he is getting the votes.

Washington is certainly coming to the front as a city of conventions. Inside of ten days the national capitol had the Grand Army encampment, the national association of laundrymen, the paint and oil men and a liquor association.

Democracy is lifting up its head and is picking up a bit. It has learned that her old love Grover may come back to town and she does not want to appear seedy before so great a beau.

The Milwaukee Journal still pursues its policy of being against everyone except itself. Shouldn't you think the Journal would get tired of that practice?

Trading among the republicans in many districts is liable to finally result in Spooner's defeat after all and the election of Gill for United States senator. Where is Uncle Ike?

The Haytian Opera-Bouffee war has turned out just as was expected. Say but the writer of "El Capitan" must have taken lessons of them before he wrote his play.

Now the poor old sultan of Turkey must be picked out for slaughter by the cowardly assassin. It begins to look like a regular Thanksgiving party in the Orient after all.

The sultan announces that he doesn't care to meet Miss Stone. Now Miss Stone is mad and won't go to meet Mr. Sultan.

Without the aid of Senator Spooner and Quarles Governor La Follette's cause would look like the proverbial snowball that is not referred to in the Bible.

BRICKLAYER IS KICKED IN HEAD

WILLIAM STEVENSON IS ASSAULTED BY HIS FOREMAN.

POSTOFFICE WORKMEN FIGHT

Says He Jostled Bricks off Wall and was Knocked Down.

William Stevenson, one of the brick layers on the government building, was this morning assaulted, brutally and without provocation, so he alleges, by his foreman, George Hess. As a result Stevenson is suffering from several wounds in the head, a warrant has been issued for the arrest of Hess, and both men have lost their positions.

As Stevenson tells the story, he accidentally knocked several of the bricks from their place on a wall. Hess, who is a foreman of the bricklayers, called him abusive names, and telling him that he had been around the work long enough, ordered him to get his time and go.

Stevenson started to comply, and moved up the streets along the sidewalk on Franklin street, when Hess followed him, and coming up behind him struck him on the back of the neck felling him to the ground. He then kicked him three or four times and left him lying bleeding. The injured man as soon as he had been assisted to rise and was able to walk went to the municipal court room, taking a witness with him, and applied for a warrant for Hess' arrest.

Judge Fifield hesitated for a time about granting a warrant, being uncertain whether he had jurisdiction over government property, but it was finally decided that the sidewalk where the assault took place was not within the limits of the government land. Government Inspector King immediately gave notice to the contractor to discharge the foreman, as he could not tolerate any fighting around the public building. The other man had already been discharged by the foreman, so that both men are out of a place.

Not Badly Injured
There is little probability that Stevenson's injuries will prove at all serious, but those who saw the assault are of the opinion that it was entirely unprovoked and unjustified. Stevenson lives at the Riverside hotel, and had been employed on the building for about a week.

Fined Ten Dollars
Under Sheriff Cochrane served the papers on Hess and he was taken up before Judge Fifield immediately. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined ten dollars and costs or twenty-five days in jail.

Is Held For Trial: After calling several more witnesses this morning who testified regarding the case of the State of Wisconsin against Edward Davis, Judge Fifield decided that the evidence did not seem to be sufficient to convict the defendant of the serious charge against him. Some, however, was undoubtedly guilty, and as the witnesses incriminated one or the other, his Honor called for a jury trial of the case. After a short conference between the attorneys and the principals, the trial was set for November 7.

LODGE ENJOYED SOCIAL SESSION

PLEASANT EVENING FOR TRIBE OF BEN HUR.

PROGRAM AND CARD PARTY

Excellent Musical and Literary Entertainment Is Followed by Cards and Refreshments.

Members of the Ben Hur Court No. 1 Tribe of Ben Hur and their friends enjoyed a social evening at the close of last night's regular meeting at East Side Odd Fellows' hall. There was a large attendance and everyone had a very jolly time.

W. E. Winbiger presided during the enjoyable program which preceded the card games. The program was not an ambitious one being given by the lodge members and some of the children, but the numbers were all well given and received with hearty applause. There were several excellent recitations, Mrs. George Webster recited "Trouble in the Amen Corner" with feeling and Mrs. Frank Rader gave "Society Setting a Hen," a humorous selection in German dialect, in a manner that kept the audience in laughter. Another humorous recitation, "Jemima's Courtship," was well given by Miss Leah Slawson.

Pleasing Melody
The musical program was also especially good. Little Miss Hazel Palmer played a piano solo in a creditable manner for so young a musician and Master Harvey Angell pleased the audience with his rendition of a kindergarten song, "The Owl." A piano solo "Witch's Patrol" was played with brilliancy by Mrs. H. D. Murdock and she was compelled to bow her response to an insistent encore.

The program also included two vocal duets. "Sweet Clover" was well given by Master Lydie Earl and Miss Leah Slawson. Miss Slawson played her own accompaniment. Mrs. W. E. Winbiger and Mrs. H. L. Baker sang an especially pretty selection, "Tell Us Merry Birds of Spring" in which their voices blended harmoniously. Mrs. Murdock played their accompaniment.

Social Nature Neglected
Attorney J. J. Cunningham gave a brief address speaking in favor of such social gatherings as the one of last evening. In the rush of business and the acquirement of money, men are inclined to neglect the better qualities of the heart and the sentimental side of their natures. It is the function of the women to overcome these defects. Social meetings of the lodge help to prevent men from becoming a one sided being devoted to the hard and sordid conditions of business life.

Cards and Refreshments
After the program the balance of the evening was devoted to card playing. Mrs. Fred Blakely and James Angell were the winners of the first prizes, a piece of statuary and a book of poems. The consolation prizes were awarded to Mrs. Frank Rader and Mr. Kelleys. During the evening apples and pop corn were served.

FORMER TEACHER WEDS AN ATTORNEY

Miss Elizabeth Abbott Was Married to C. H. Tenney, of Madison, on Wednesday.

Among the congratulations which Mr. and Mrs. Tenney will receive will be many from this city where the bride is well known and held in the highest esteem. During the time when she was engaged as one of the instructors at the State School for the Blind, she became very popular in Janesville society and musical circles. She is an accomplished and gracious woman and her musical voice has often given pleasure to Janesville audiences.

Mr. Tenney is one of the prominent young attorneys of Madison, being a member of the law firm of Tenney, Hall & Tenney. He is also popular in social circles. Mr. and Mrs. Tenney will reside in Madison and will be at home at 1215 East Johnson St., after November 22.

Churches have been founded and other religious bodies have viewed with alarm the growth of the Mormon faith. A call has been issued for a state conference to be held at Muncie, where steps will be taken to put several hundred additional missionaries in the field. The Rev. Mr. Stephenson, who is at the head of the movement in Indiana, said in an interview that while Mormons are not practicing polygamy a Mormon now practicing polygamy would not be considered as violating church laws and nothing would be done with him by the church.

CALCULATE COURSE OF COMET

Disturbance on Planet Mercury Can Be Seen Nov. 29.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 24.—Calculations made at the Harvard Observatory show that the comet "B. 1902," on November 29, will pass within 1,644,000 miles of Mercury. Effects of the disturbance upon the planet can, therefore, be determined so accurately that a good view of the mass may be obtained. It is expected the comet will be visible after passing its perihelion.

Drank Wood Alcohol and Died.

Rockford, Ill., Oct. 24.—Developments in the case of Dr. A. Blood of Capron, who died mysteriously on Wednesday, show that he probably drank wood alcohol, which caused his death. It was not ascertained by the coroner's jury at the inquest whether he did it with suicidal intent. A further examination is to be made, as some persons declare that death was due to heart failure.

Irrigation Fund.

Washington, Oct. 24.—Irrigation enthusiasts will be gratified to learn that there is $7,772,733 to be applied on the semi-arid regions of the West to make the blossom. The fund represents the net proceeds from the sale of public lands in the semi-arid states during the last two fiscal years, which under the law can be applied to the promotion of the national irrigation project.

Shot-Gun? Prescriptions.

We suppose we are not revealing any trade secret when we say that many medicines are made up on the principle of the so-called "shot-gun" prescriptions," which were formerly somewhat in vogue.

The idea of the shot-gun prescription was to put in a large number of different drugs, each useful for different purposes, in the hope that some of them might hit the case.

Vinol, the medicine we sell over our name and guarantee, is not a scattering "shot-gun" prescription," but goes straight to the mark.

"Don't Speak"

To the motorman, "is a sign to be seen on the front platform of many cars. It requires all his thought, all his energy and all his strength to pilot his car through crowded streets. The strain tells on him, and some when he gets "rattled" and has an accident. The surest way to sustain the physical strength and nervous force required by the motorman or railroad man is to keep the stomach in a condition of sound health. When the stomach becomes "weak," food is imperfectly digested and the body is deprived of its necessary nourishment. The nerves are "unstrung" and the body is weakened.

The timely use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery when the stomach is "weak" will re-establish the body in vigorous health. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, nourishes the nerves and purifies the blood.

"I suffered for four years with pain in my stomach so that at times I could not work nor eat," writes Mr. Francis Smith, of Granite, Chaffee Co., Colo. "I wrote to you about my sickness and was told to use your medicine, which I did with good results. I only used four bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and must say that I am entirely cured, and feel like a new man, and I can highly recommend your medicine to any sufferer."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.
